Select the appropriate term.

The default is to search for open classes. If you change this to search for all classes, you will need to fill in at least one additional criterion.

Click Search.

You can enter part or all of a word in the course title.

Tip:
 Find Lower Division classes by searching for course numbers "Less Than or Equal to 99" or find Upper Division classes by searching for course numbers "Greater Than or Equal to 100."

Find graduate courses by choosing Graduate from the Course Career dropdown menu.

Class Search Results Options

The search results page shows primary classes (lectures, seminars, graded labs etc.).

The search criteria and number of results are shown.

To change the order of the columns, click the heading for a column and drag and drop it to move it left or right.

Description

Mathematical tools and reasoning, with applications to economics. Topics are drawn from multivariable differential calculus and single variable integral calculus, and include partial derivatives, linear and quadratic approximation, optimization with and without constraints, Lagrange multipliers, definite and indefinite integrals, and elementary differential equations.

Enrollment Requirements

Prerequisite(s): course 11A , Economics 11A, Mathematics 11A, or Mathematics 19A.

Class Notes

Also offered as ECON 11B
